Attack in Senate on Japanese Clause of Treaty

WAR IS RESUMED IN THE SENATE ON 4-POWER TREATY

Hitchcock Declares That Rules Were Not Complied With in Ratification.

LODGE FOR DEFENSE.

Robinson Begins Assault by Effort to Exclude Japanese Clause.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Validity of the Senate's ratification yesterday of the Four-Power Pacific treaty was challenged in the Senate today by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democratic member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee but was defended as vigorously by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader and Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin.

By failing to act yesterday on the "declaration" relating to domestic questions of the delegates who signed the four-power pact, Senator Hitchcock said the Senate had not complied with legal technicalities for ratification of the entire treaty. He contended and Mr. Lodge denied that the declaration was a part of the four-power measure. Senator Lodge, however, said he would offer a resolution later to have the Senate ratify the declaration.

Senator Robinson offered an amendment to the supplementary treaty excluding from operation of the Four-Power Treaty, the island of Sakhalin. If Senator Robinson's amendment should be adopted the supplementary treaty would limit the Four-Power Treaty to the island of Formosa, the Philippines and Japan's mandate of islands in the Pacific, formerly held by Germany.

The supplementary Treaty was drawn so that if the "mainland" of Japan were attacked, the Treaty would not be operative. Senator Robinson's amendment would exclude Sakhalin as well.

The southern half of Sakhalin is held by Japan as a spoil of the Russo-Japanese War. The northern half is garrisoned by Japanese troops because of the presence of Japanese subjects. Many Senators, during the Four-Power Treaty debate, predicted Russia would within a few years seek to wrest the whole of Sakhalin from Japan, and the United States would then be involved in the dispute.

After Robinson offered his amendment Senator Pittman, Nevada, in a speech criticized President Harding and Senate leaders for not presenting for ratification the declaration which accompanied the four-power treaty. This was the two-fold reservation made by Secretary Hughes before the treaty was signed. It provided that the United States in making the treaty gave up none of its rights in the mandated islands and that all domestic questions should be excluded from operation in the treaty.

POLICEMAN SAVES 11 LIVES MENAGED IN BATH BEACH FIRE

Five Women, Two Children and Four Men Overcome or Dazed by Smoke.

Five women, two children and four men were rescued during a fire at 4 A. M. to-day in the three-story building at No. 1759 Bath Avenue, Bath Beach. When Policeman Thomas Fitzgerald saw the flames in a dry-goods store on the ground floor and forced his way into the building was filled with smoke.

On the top floor he found Irving Cohen, his wife, Rae, their one-year-old daughter, Rae; the Cohens' guests, John Forman and wife, Lucy, and Harry Wagner, his wife, Leah, and their year-old child.

He directed the men to take the babies and the women to catch hold of the men. He then led them down the stairs through the stifling smoke.

On the second floor he found Dominick Aretse, his wife Ida and his aged mother, Mrs. Henrietta Aretse. They had been aroused as Fitzgerald ran to the top floor, but were too nearly overcome by smoke to get out unaided, and the policeman carried the older woman and led the others to the street.

Occupants of adjoining houses were ordered to the street until the fire, which did $1,000 damage, was out. The dry-goods store is owned by Cohen, who was to have reopened it for business to-day.

Philadelphia Wakes Up at Last! She Sheds Her Quaker Modesty To Tell the World How Big She Is!

Mayor Admits New York's Superiority, But Rules Chicago Out and Opens Boosting Campaign With a Few Figures.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25 (Copyright, 1922).—Philadelphia is on the trail of her traducers. No more will the old stock joke "I spent a week in Philadelphia last Friday" be tolerated.

Mayor J. Hampton Moore explained to-day the new campaign "to uphold the fair name of Philadelphia, to defend her against thoughtless and unjust criticism and to speak of her always in terms of pride and love."

The Quaker City's only fault in that she has been modest and that is why you have not heard more about her. But all of that is to cease now. Philadelphia is going to tell the world. Why should Philadelphia be silent while other cities boast of their civic virtue—and everything?

Philadelphia has one ward which is bigger than all of Manhattan Island. In Philadelphia's largest ward some

THUG STEALS GEMS WOMAN REFUSED TO RETURN TO DONOR

Detective Says Jersey Victim
Declared Employer Withdrew Promise of Marriage.

MYSTERY IN ROBBERY.

Story Starts New Jersey Inquiry—Another Woman
Robbed in Automobile.

A story told to Detective Bernard Hoslin, of the West Orange Police Force, to-day by Mrs. Irene Zink, the comely thirty-five-year-old housekeeper for Charles E. Wilson, a merchant living at No. 17 Quimby Place, Llewellyn Park, puts a new complexion on a hold-up committed by a masked burglar in the Wilson home at 8 o'clock yesterday evening. Mrs. Zink's story differs from that first told by Mr. Wilson.

She said that she took the position of housekeeper in the Wilson home with the understanding that Wilson was to marry her. Their relations were friendly until recently, she said, when Wilson's son, Samuel, thirty-two years old joined the household. The elder Wilson, Mrs. Zink told the detective, appeared to lose interest in her and asked her to return the diamond rings and a pearl necklace which he had given her.

Wilson went to the door when the bell rang last night and admitted a masked man armed with a revolver. At the burglar's command, Mrs. Zink said, she and the elder Wilson and Samuel Wilson went to her bedroom on the second floor. There the thief took $180 from the elder Wilson and $20 from the son and took a diamond ring from her finger. The other ring and the necklace were in a jewel case on the dresser. The thief picked up the jewel case, opened it, satisfied himself that it contained the ring and necklace and put in his pocket.

Mrs. Zink, alone, pursued the thief when he left the house, she said, and saw him jump into an automobile and ride away. When Wilson tried to telephone the police he discovered that the wire had been cut outside the house.

A short time later a lone one-armed highwayman held up an automobile in Hudson Heights, North Bergen, N. J. In the car were Alfred M. Schmidt, No. 916 Castle Point Terrace, and Charles Weber, No. 1032 Hudson Street, both Hoboken addresses, and Agnes Smith, No. 115 11th Street, and Loretta Bell, of No. 659 Palladium Avenue, West New York. He took $40 from Schmidt, $20 from Weber and $20 from Miss Smith.

9 KILLED, 9 MISSING,
IN MINE EXPLOSION

Rescue Crews Work All Night to Reach Impoverished Men.

TRINIDAD, Col., March 25.—Nine men are known to have perished and nine others were missing to-day as a result of an explosion in Sopa Mine No. 2 of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, near here, yesterday afternoon.

Rescue crews worked all night in efforts to rescue the nine men imprisoned or to recover their bodies. According to company officials the eighteen dead and missing men were the only ones in the mine when the explosion occurred. The day shift of 200 men had left the mine just a few minutes before the accident.

WOMAN KILLED BY GAS AT ST. GEORGE HOTEL

A young woman who had registered a week ago at the St. George Hotel in East 12th Street as Ruth Hansen was found dead from gas at 5 A. M. to-day. She was about twenty-two years old and no one knew anything of her family or where she came from.

Guests smelled gas early to-day and her door was opened with a gas key, she was on her back and dead. A gas meter had been disconnected.

RICKARD TO TAKE STAND ON MONDAY IN OWN DEFENSE

Promoter Spends Day With
Counsel on Order of Justice
Wasservogel.

STATE STUDIES ALIBI.

Testimony to Date Contro-verts Nov. 12 Allegations of Girl Accusers.

By order of Justice Wasservogel, Tex Rickard, whose trial is to be resumed Monday, was taken from the Tombs to the office of Deputy Sheriff Brown and spent the day there with his counsel, preparatory to going on the witness stand in his own defense Monday.

The adjournment over to-day was taken on the assurance of counsel for both sides that they could finish the trial quicker if they had a day to systematize their procedure.

Pending the adjournment of the Tex Rickard case until Monday, the prosecution was seeking means to controvert the alibi for Rickard's movements on Saturday, Nov. 12, furnished by Dr. John H. Richards, physician for Mrs. Rickard (as well as for the late Theodore Roosevelt and Assistant District Attorney Pecora, the prosecutor), Mrs. Helen Tillotson, a trust company employee and guest of the Rickards, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flournoy.

Dr. Richards was an uncomfortable witness for Mr. Pecora's cross-examination. Asked if he had not told Mr. Pecora of an intention to become an alibi witness for Rickard on an indictment for another offense, December 15, the doctor replied: "Yes, because my books furnished my memory that I saw Mr. Rickard at his home on that evening, too." This followed an extended answer as to whether Mr. Pecora and the doctor had not talked about the defendant: "Yes, and I told you he was a thoroughly reliable man, straightforward and—"

The question was ordered off the record.

Mr. Steiner, for Rickard, still has in reserve a stack of affidavits tending to show that certain persons not public officers attempted to extort a bribe from Rickard by furnishing material which would disprove the testimony of his accusers. This matter is likely to be introduced when Rickard carries out his determination to take the stand in his own defense.

Among a number of character witnesses yesterday was Kermit Roosevelt. He revealed that Rickard was the backer of the coffee house enterprise in which the Roosevelt brothers, their brother-in-law, Dr. Derby, and other members of the family are interested. He caused a smile when he said:

"I would no more say a man who runs a gambling house is of bad character than I would say a man who runs a church is necessarily of good character."

WOMEN TO SHOW
MEN HOW TO RUN
FAULTLESS TOWN

They Will Take Men Into Consultation, However, When Big Things Impend.

DES LACS, N. D., March 25.—This village of 600 is in the political grasp of eight women to-day.

They took over the reins of city government at a town meeting Friday night and announced they would provide a "safe and sane government."

Mrs. F. E. Ward, who sported the Town Marshal's star, patrolled the streets to-day, with not a law violator in sight.

Mrs. Rebecca Varnes, Justice of the Peace, allowed that she wouldn't have much work to do unless the town grew worse. "And we are going to make it better," she added. "That is the platform on which we were elected."

The women were chosen at a recent election. They organized a "booster club," lined up the votes and won by a big majority.

At their first meeting, the women agreed that they wouldn't run the city affairs in a "high-handed manner"—they will consult the men on every important step.

TWO MARRIED COUPLES AND WOMAN LOST IN WRECK OF MIAMI-BIMINI PLANE AT SEA

Fireman Crushed by Engine Dies on Day He Was to Announce Engagement to Brooklyn Girl

"I'm Done; Give My Love to the Family and My Sweetheart." He Gasps, Dying in Hospital
After the Accident.

FREDERICK BRANDT, a Brooklyn fireman, was to have had the most important "day off" of his life, beginning at 9 o'clock this morning. There was to be a party to-night at which his engagement to a Brooklyn girl was to be announced. But he died at the Brooklyn Hospital from injuries received when he was run over by his own apparatus at York Street and Hudson Avenue.

All the members of his own company, as well as other firemen, offered to give blood in a transfusion operation, but it was no use.

Brandt, a member of Engine Company No. 268, Front Street, near Bridge, was one of the "comedians" of the department and was widely known. He jumped off the ten-ton combination engine and tender early to-day just before it stopped at the box. He slipped and a rear wheel ran over him.

Firemen Wesley Dunlap of Engine 265 and John Gallagher and James Dougherty of No. 267 were first to reach him.

"I'm done," he gasped. "Give my regards to the boys and my love to the family and my sweetheart."

He was lifted into the automobile of Deputy Chief John Kirk and a record trip was made by Fireman John Gallagher and Dougherty were assigned to accompany him. Dr. Jennings notified Lieut. John McNeill, in command of No. 268, that blood transfusion was Brandt's only hope. The eight members of No. 268 promptly offered themselves. Other firemen clamored for a chance. Firemen Dunlap and Hendrick Wessel of his own company were selected, went to the hospital and passed the usual test, but Brandt did not live long enough for the transfusion.

Brandt lived at No. 143 Woodlawn Street, Ridgewood, and had been in the department two years. Until a short time ago he was a member of the Fire Department Band. He was in the Navy during the World War and served on a sub-chaser. He was one of the best amateur boxers in the service.

SAYS HOLLIS GOT DIVORCE IN FRANCE IN LAST 3 MONTHS

His Law Partner Answers
Statement of Former Senator's First Wife.

Edward Thomas Moore, law partner of former Senator Henry F. Hollis of New Hampshire, who was married in Italy this week to Miss Anne White Hobbs of Concord, N. H., said to-day that Mr. Hollis obtained an absolute divorce from Mrs. Grace B. Fisher Hollis in the French courts within the last three months.

The statement, purporting to come from counsel for Mrs. Grace B. Fisher Hollis at Concord to the effect that she had successfully contested every effort of the former Senator to get a divorce here or abroad, Mr. Moore said "was nothing but an attempt to belittle Mr. Hollis' marriage and it was successful."

Mr. Moore acknowledged that the French courts denied an application of Mr. Hollis for a divorce last July as Mrs. Grace Hollis says. But he added that Mr. Hollis renewed his petition and it was successful. "There is not even a technical ground for an attack in New Jersey on the validity of the divorce or the following marriage to Miss Hobbs," Mr. Moore said, because that State recognizes the validity of divorces wherever granted.

The women were chosen at a recent election. They organized a "booster club," lined up the votes and won by a big majority.

At their first meeting, the women agreed that they wouldn't run the city affairs in a "high-handed manner"—they will consult the men on every important step.

Rescued Pilot Tells of 48-Hour Battle in Which Two Women Died, Hus- band Leaped After Crazy Wife and Last Man Gave Up Exhausted

Sighted Nine Vessels and Several Air- ships Which Passed Unnoticed Before One Captain, Obeying Im- pulse, Turned to Find Survivor.

MIAMI, Fla., March 25.—Two of the women passengers of the flying boat Miss Miami, which left here Wednesday for the Island of Bimini and was forced down in the open sea by a broken propeller, died of exposure and two other passengers, crazed by exposure, jumped overboard into the sea, according to the story told by Robert Moore, pilot of the craft, to members of the crew of the steamer William Green, which rescued him last night from the wrecked hull of the boat.

CHURCHILL SEES BRIGHTER OUTLOOK FOR IRISH PEACE

Vows That Difficult Task Free
State Faces Will Be Accomplished.

NORTHAMPTON, Eng., March 25 (Associated Press).—Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, speaking at a political meeting here to-day, declared that the way in which the Government of Southern Ireland was carrying out its difficult task led him to hope for favorable results. He said that when a political leader like Eamon De Valera made threats it suggested that he had lost the support of the masses of Irish people.

Mr. Churchill asserted that since the Government of Ireland, broadly speaking, had been entirely left to Irishmen, it was for them to decide what they would do with it. "Will they sink into a welter of anarchy and strife?" he asked. "Or will they rise hopefully and faithfully to a bright future of peace and freedom, which is within their grasp? It is for them to decide."

"Their fate is in their own hands. We can help, we can hope and we can cheer, but it rests with them."

"I vow to you this afternoon, even in this darkest hour, my very strong faith and hope is that things will come right."

DUBLIN, March 25 (Associated Press).—Arthur Griffith, President of the Dail Eireann, and Eamon J. Duggan, Minister of Home Affairs in the Dail Cabinet, are planning to go to London Monday in response to the British Government's invitation to a conference on the unsettled situation in Ireland.

A meeting of the officers of the Sinn Fein, summoned by Eamon De Valera to consider the murders of Catholics in Ulster, was held last night at the Mansion House. A resolution to the effect that "just as when the nation was menaced by conscription"

After seven and a half hours the two women died in the arms of the pilot and he gently dropped their bodies into the water, which had not claimed four passengers.

This left only Pilot Moore and August Bulte, Vice President of the Larabee Flour Mills Corporation of Kansas City, who took turns manning the pump in an effort to keep the flying boat afloat. They kept him up until Friday morning, when he was so exhausted they could no longer man the pump. About this time a huge wave came along and overturned the float.

Bulte and Moore scrambled over the side of the boat and Moore fastened a rope around himself to support him in case he became unconscious. Standing on his feet he waved a white handkerchief, keeping the up all day long.

After praying for help, Bulte, realizing his condition and that death was not far away, took a roll of rope containing $2,000 from his pocket and handed it to Moore, saying:

"You are a young man and may be"
